

MALTA

Women's programmes

In the prisons of Malta there are no specific programmes for women who have suffered gender violence within intimate partnerships and are in prison. However, the Corradino Correctional Services, by means of a team consisting of a psychiatrist, two forensic psychologist, social workers and probation officers, provided personalised support for people inside prison with any need they may have.

Men's programmes

In the prisons of Malta there are no specific programmes for men who have committed gender violence within intimate partnerships and are in prison. However, the Corradino Correctional Services, by means of a team consisting of a psychiatrist, two forensic psychologist, social workers and probation officers, provided personalised support for people inside prison with any need they may have.