

PORTUGAL

Women's programmes

In the Portuguese Prisons there are no specific programmes for women who have suffered gender violence within intimate partnerships and are in prison.

Men's programmes

In the Portuguese Prisons there are no specific programmes for men who have committed gender violence within intimate partnerships and are in prison.

Very recently, the Ministry of Justice announced that a programme will be implemented (in 2 or 3 locations, by probation technicians) for men perpetrators of violence against women who have been convicted to non incarcerative/alternative to prison sentences. No more information was available concerning the implementation of this programmes.
